

Love Sucks! Here's Why...

Name: _____

For this assignment you are to find an unrequited, over-exaggerated or sad love song and explain how it could be used as a replacement soliloquy for Romeo in Romeo and Juliet.

- You are to write 250 - 300 words discussing how it fits in with Romeo's personality and views on love.
- You must quote both the play and the song.
- You must use proper in text citation of the play which will be reviewed in class.
- Proper spelling, grammar and sentence structure apply.

Due:

Please type your assignment and supply a copy of the lyrics. If you cannot print, email it to me before class: bmackeyed@gmail.com

While it may be tempting, please refrain from overly focusing on Romeo's issues. There will be opportunities for that at a later date!

Success Criteria:

- /2 Do you explain how the song and play connect?
- /2 Introduction - Does it hook the reader? Does it introduce the topic?
- /2 Do you have at least two specific examples from the play?
- /3 Do you have at least two examples from the song (and do they make sense?)
- /2 Conclusion - Does it end off the piece? Are there any unanswered questions?
- /1 Are all the citations correct?
- /2 Are there spelling, grammar, or punctuation errors?
- /1 Is the piece between 250-300 words?
